

Successfully Budget, Build and Maintain the Capital-intensive Assets Your Community Relies On

GORDIAN®

Smarter Decisions. Streamlined Operations. Stronger Communities.

Gordian's customers manage diverse portfolios of physical assets and must make important decisions about how they allocate capital and human resources. These are difficult decisions to make, especially when constrained by chronic budget shortfalls, overworked staff and complex regulatory requirements.

That's where Gordian's solutions come into play.

We are the industry leader in Building Intelligence™ Solutions that help healthcare institutions successfully budget, build and maintain capital-intensive assets their communities rely on.

Solving Complex Challenges With Innovative Solutions

Gordian's Building Intelligence Solutions are fueled by accurate insights, robust technology and comprehensive expertise that empower teams to effectively manage the entire building lifecycle and ensure a continuum of care for the physical environment.

Enabling Success Throughout the Building Lifecycle

Inflationary pressures, care delivery transformations and shifts in the labor market have created an unstable landscape for decision makers, operators and project leaders. Gordian's Building Intelligence Solutions are proven to empower healthcare institutions to adaptively navigate today's challenging market and usher in a brighter future for the communities they serve.

From prioritizing needs and developing strategic plans to engaging and procuring resources to optimizing existing assets to meet evolving demands, we have a solution that can help.

Gordian continues to invest significant financial, technical and human resources to create solutions that scale and adapt to our customers' needs.

Trusted by Industry Leaders

The smartest executives, savviest operators and most diligent maintenance organizations from various industries turn to Gordian as their partner of choice.
